FOR SALE,

Valuable Landed Property in Northumberland County.

ONE Tract of 1500 acres, and known by the name of Hack's neck—the whole of which is low ground of the first quality, well watered by many excellent springs, and a large proportion covered with valuable timber trees. It is beautifully situated on the Potomac River, about five miles above Smith's Point. This land is interior to none below the Ridge, and few estates in the valey of Frederick and Berkeley, can be more productive of nett profit, after deducting the expence of transporting the produce of the latter to market, agreeable to the present mode, or by a just estimate of the difference of risk and charge of freight between natural and forced navigation. On this estate there are between 50 and 60 negroes who will be sold with it, if agreeable to the purchaser.

Another tract containing four hundred acres of fine farming land five miles higher up the Potomac well watered and conveniently supplied with fish, oysters, and wild fowl.

A third estate two miles from the last of thirteen hundred acres of high Land, extremely well adapted to farming or growing Tobacco or Indian Corn. This is a remarkable healthy and delightful situation. It commands a very extensive, pleasant, and engaging prospect of the bay of Chesapeake and the Potomac River. To this is attached a valuable grist mill. A more minute description is thought unnecessary, as it is presumed that those inclined to purchase will view and judge for themselves. If one fourth of the purchase money is paid when titles are made and possession given, which may be at Christmas next, a long credit will be given, if required, for the remainder. In my absence the lands will be shewn to any person wishing to purchase, on application to Mr. Whalen, the manager on the first described estate.

DIRECTIONS
FOR PREVENTING THE SMUT IN WHEAT.*

Extracted from a Letter to the Secretary of the Agricultural Society at Halifax, written by an (apparently) experienced Farmer—having, as he asserts, "constantly followed farming for twenty-eight years, and experienced on all sort of land in the part where he resided, and never observed one smutty grain in his fields, but that his neighbours were seldom free from it, more or less."

"Take a tub that will hold as much as you intend to steep at once; put in a tap-wisp of straw in the same manner you do a leech-tub; set it up where you can conveniently draw off the liquor you intend to put into it; fill the leech tub about half full, with a good pickle; the pickle in which beef, pork, or fish have been cured will answer. If it is foul, or not strong enough, boil it and skim it clean, and add more salt to it; there is no danger of making it too strong. When the pickle is prepared, put in the wheat very slowly out of a half bushel or pail, in the same manner as when it is winnowed, to prevent any quantity of the heavy grain falling in together, that might carry down oats or any light stuff with it, all which skim off; when the tub is so full that the pickle stands about two inches above the wheat, stir it well with a stick and skim off every thing that swims; let it stand twenty-four hours at least; but as the weather is generally cold at seed time†, thirty-six or forty-eight is better, then draw off the pickle and reserve it for another steeping; let it drain a little, then throw out the wheat on a floor (a smooth earth floor is to be preferred), but as you throw it out a little and little, sift slacked lime on it; about half a bushel will serve for four bushels of wheat: after the wheat is all out and limed, turn it and mix it well, so that some lime may adhere to every grain if possible. If the ground is ready it may be sown the same day; or, if the weather or other accident prevents, it will take no damage if it lies on the floor a fortnight or more, only it must be turned and not lie too thick, to prevent its heating, which, however, it is not so apt to do on an earth floor;"—this is the whole process—and the author adds, "whoever will faithfully put it in practice, will find the good effects of it. It sometimes happens the farmer cannot procure lime, which has occasionally been my own case, though seldom; in such cases, good wood ashes will serve as a substitute, but I think not so efficacious. I am as careful to procure lime for my wheat as salt for my provisions. The farmer says this process is troublesome, besides the expence of time; such language as this I have often heard: but there are many necessary things to be done in farming, as well as other employments, that are unavoidably troublesome and expensive, which nevertheless, must be done; besides, in this case, the trouble and expence will be amply repaid in the crop.—I am fully persuaded this preparation not only cures or prevents the smut, but gives a strong vegetation to the first sprout of the grain, which serves as a manure and betters the crop. The lime made use of should be slacked by the wind, by long standing in an open cask in an airy place; but if stone lime is used, it should be slacked leisurely by sprinkling hot water on it, at a little at a time, so that it may be a dry powder before it is sifted on the wheat. Many farmers in England dissolve a pound of green copperas in the pickle before they put in the wheat, and others dissolve stone lime in it, to make it more powerful; but this I never experienced. The smut in wheat used formerly to be as prevalent in England as elsewhere, if used without preparation, though very few omit it now."

* Smut in wheat is that must or blackness gathered on the ears or heads, which, some seasons so greatly prevails in this country, than which scarcely can any thing prove more injurious to this most necessary article—a very few grains tinctured with it, being sufficient to cast a deep shade on a considerable quantity of good flour, and to render it disagreeable in smell and taste.

† As it is the practice of our farmers to begin to sow wheat much earlier than this farmer appears to have done, probably twelve to twenty-four hours may be sufficient with us to steep the seed: according to the warmth of the weather. And as the labour and expence of this preparation may be an objection with extensive farmers, it may not be amiss to observe that, if it is a fact that it answers, in a good degree, the purpose of manure (which appears to be the case), this consideration alone is sufficient to induce every farmer to make the experiment.

FROM THE AURORA.

MR. BACHE,

WHY is not the army paid according to law? is a question which, I presume, cannot be satisfactorily answered. And why did the enquiry into the business, moved by Mr. Dearborn, at the last session of congress, evaporate in smoke?

On the 11th ult. I completed a period of three years service in the legion of the United States. I received bills from the pay-master on the secretary of war, payable at ten days sight (tho' I understood they would be paid at sight) for the whole of my three years pay, and three hundred dollars besides which I advanced to the agent of the United States for the payment of the army. On my arrival in this city, on my way to Vermont, being destitute of money, and owing for my passage in the stage from Lancaster, I applied to the Secretary of war, and endeavored to urge immediate payment by representing the peculiar hardship of my situation, at a distance of several hundred miles from home, and unable to procure the means of subsistence here, or to continue my journey—but in vain. I was informed that instead of ten the bills would not be paid under thirteen days.

Several merchants in this city, to whom I applied, refused to receive the bills, altho' I offered to take part of the sum in goods, and make a considerable discount besides. They expressed an idea that payment would not be made in 30 days.

Those who are constantly expatiating upon the dignity, the credit, the resources, and justice of our government: or in other words the members of the government themselves, are called upon to answer the above and the following questions.

Are the United States unable to support and pay their present paltry military establishment? Is the treasury destitute of money, and the government without credit? Is the person at the head of the department, or any of his subordinates, deficient in their duty? Have not soldiers, after fulfiling their engagements, and breaking the chains of military despotism, a right to claim as citizens, the enjoyment of the rights of man? Or is the man, who, to borrow the phraseology of an aristocratic representative*, mutilates his frame in the service of his country—undergoes the various hardships and dangers attendant on savage warfare—sacrifice, as I have done, the best of heaven's blessings; a healthy and vigorous constitution on the altar of his country—Is that man, I ask, to be treated as I have been? Shall he be obliged to part with his demands upon his country, under the greatest disadvantages and heavy losses, or beg his bread in the metropolis of the United States!!!

I do not mean, sir, to impeach the integrity of the present secretary of war; but the abuses are astonishing. I owe it to myself and to my country to develope these which have fallen within the sphere of my own personal observation; a duty which I pledge myself to perform as soon as possible.

JAMES ELLIOT,
Late Serjeant 2d Sub Legion.

* MR. BUCK, of Vermont, who lost an arm in the service of his country.—Query, if Serjeant Elliott is a limb tne less, or would this be too aristocratic?

FROM THE COLUMBIAN CENTINEL.

We have procured the translation of the following Eulogy on the French army, and we present it to our readers, as a monument of brilliant imagery, and of correct and chaste fancy.

What an immortal lustre is shed by the laurels of victory; especially when they are engrafted on the scion of the beloved olive. Oh! thou Daughter of heaven! Divinity cherished by mankind—the glory and prosperity of empires—the strength of States, desired Peace!—Soon will thou reign among Frenchmen! Soon our fortunate republic will resemble a delightful isle which sees the irritated waves of the ocean expire on its shores; which enjoys an eternal spring, and which nature embellishes with its richest gifts!

Generous Warriors! The elder sons of the republic! The honor of the French name! It is you who will close the temple of Janus! It is you who will give peace to the world, and to whom your country will owe all its happiness.

Patriot Soldiers! Your fellow-citizens prepare your crowns—they will go to meet the conquerors—they will surround the train, chaunt your exploits, and testify to you their love and their gratitude.

Already the astonished universe pays you the tribute of eulogium and admiration due to your warlike atchievements:—Even your enemies esteem and fear you.—They celebrate your courage, your constancy, your attachment to your country, and the example you have furnished of military virtues.

Oh! may the charms of glory, like the laurels of victory, deck the brow of the patriot soldier! How sublime—how truly worthy of envy is that noble attachment of the republican, whose terrible arm defends his habitation, his relations, his friends, and the country which gave him birth.—He does not echo the shriek of vengeance and fury—Terrible in combat, he strikes the haughty, carries terror into the battalions of the enemy, and overturns squadrons:—Magnanimous art of victory! Humanity meets him upon the homicidial theatre; where united they console and relieve the conquered foe, and repair the affrightful mischiefs produced by the fatality of circumstances, or by the terrible laws of necessity.

Where is the citizen, who does not speak of our warriors with affection? Who does not feel all the importance of the sacrifices they have made to their country? Who is not astonished at that heroic courage; at that constancy, and those surprizing exploits, which the annals of history will repeat to our latest posterity? He sees in our brave brothers in arms, his friends, his children, his whole family.—He sheds tears upon their wounds—participates their privations, he follows them into combat—by his wishes he would arrest the sanguinary ball, and preserve them all to their country.

In the midst of snows, and of frost—upon mountains of ice, surrounded by enemies—sleeping on the earth—deprived of sufficient subsistence, what has been the conduct of those Warriors! No sooner does the clarion of war sound, than they seize their terrible arms, and fly to victory, or to death! What noble motives animate them! What produces in their souls this lively enthusiasm? It is the love of our country, which doubles our physical force, multiplies brilliant actions, produces patriots, heroes and great men. It is this noble virtue—the aggregate of every other, without which the warrior is only an assassin or a vile slave—which guides the Republican soldier, and renders him terrible to the enemies of his country.

Where is the citizen who can fill the heroic trumpet, whose masculine force can celebrate such immense atchievements? Come forward, ye patriot writers; paint in traits of fire, the heroism of our warriors—charge yourselves with the gratitude of your country—Sing their united civil and military virtues—celebrate our new Bayards, our Crillons, our Barbazens? Happier than those great men, they have fought only for their country. What a career is opened to genius! What an enthusiasm, what an intoxication, ought to inflame the song of the defenders of the Republic!

A few days more, and the citizen and the warrior will injoy an immortal glory! Delightful Peace will scatter our battalions into our vast and fertile fields.—It will place in their victorious hands the instruments of husbandry, and those of the fine arts.—The heretofore destroying steel will plough the earth, bring back industry and talents, and the Republic will enjoy a double triumph;—It will have conquered its enemies by the force of arms, it will surpass rival nations by masterpieces of taste and genius.

Young Frenchmen! You are calculated for ever species of glory; the laurels of the fine arts, and those of victory, ought ever to shade your brows; pursue your brilliant career! strike the united despots! root out the impotent sattelites of falling monarchy! crush, piteously, under you all the enemies of your country. A few days more, and your triumph is secure—a few days more, and you will produce the happiness of all—you will give peace to the world—you will enjoy the fruit of your long and painful toils, and you will receive the benediction of a numerous nation, who are indebted to you for abundance, for peace, and for happiness.

FROM THE AURORA.

Extract of a letter from an American impressed on board his Majesty's ship Thetis, at sea, July 7.

"Before now I have never had an opportunity of letting you know whether your unhappy friend was dead or alive, not being allowed materials for writing, nor even to speak to an American when they chance to come on board us, if we do we are instantly dragged to the gang-way, and flogged till we can scarely stand: with this treatment, I hear many of my unhappy brethren have died.

"Through the friendly assistance of a humane English sailor, I am enabled to give you a short sketch of my situation and usage since I have been in the Dey of Great Britain's service.

"I sailed from Baltimore in a brig bound for Cape Francois, on the 14th of March; on the 23d A. M. we were boarded by the British frigate Thetis, and I was the unfortuate person pitched upon to be dragged into slavery—the most wretched slavery! As soon as they got me on board the frigate, I was told my duty, which was to act in capacity of cook's mate: I complained to the captain of the frigate of this usage, and refused to do duty, [illegible]

which he ordered me to be taken to the gang-way and flagged until I could not ſtand, I was accordingly tied up and beat moſt unmercifully; expecting to be murdered, I was obliged to comply with the demand of theſe pirates. I ſerved in capacity of cook's mate for three months, when I was made to act as marine, in which ſtation I have been made to ſerve ever ſince.

"There are a number of Americans on board this ſhip: and the captain promiſes us, that "If we are good boys, we ſhall go and ſee our friends when the war is over."—How long will Americans ſuffer their citizens to be thus murdered? How long will they permit us to remain in this cruel and barbarous ſlavery? A ſlavery ten times worſe than even a ſlavery in Algiers: Shall the American States remain dupes to a Britiſh tyrant? The proclamation of the Preſident declares our country to be a neutral nation; but is it poſſible that we can preſume to call ourſelves neutral, when we permit hundreds of our fellow-citizens to remain in the ſervice of the king of Great Britain? That it may not always be ſo, is the ſincere prayer of.

Your unfortunate friend,

"JAMES RAND."

Extract of a Letter from Gen. James Wilkinſon to the Secretary of War, dated Greenville, July 16.

"I have the very great pleaſure to inform you, that in conſequence of my orders and arrangements, Lieutenant Colonel Hamtramck on the 11th inſtant actually diſplayed the American ſtripes from Fort Miami, and embarked the ſame day with about 400 men for Detroit, of which place I have no doubt he is now in poſſeſſion.

"I congratulate you, Sir, on this long looked for event, which cannot fail to excite the moſt lively pleaſure in the public mind, becauſe it is pregnant with conſequences highly intereſting to the national weal."

Extract of a letter from captain Henry De Butts to the Secretary of War, dated Detroit, July 14.

"It is with very great pleaſure I do myſelf the honor of announcing to you that on the 11th inſt. about noon the flag of the United States was diſplayed on the ramparts of Detroit, a few minutes after the works were evacuated by Colonel England and the Britiſh troops under his command, and with additional ſatisfaction I inform you, that the exchange was effected with much propriety and harmony by both parties."

Extract of a letter from a gentleman at Cincinnati, dated July 10, to the Printer of the Pittſburgh Gazette.

SIR,

"It is with pleaſure that I inform you of the good news received yeſterday from Detroit, by an expreſs ſent from Capt. De Butts to Gen. Wayne. The letter is dated July the 11ſt and is in theſe words:

"After a long and tedious paſſage beſides having been detained ten days at Fort Erie by contrary winds, I am ſafe arrived here; an expreſs from Lord Dorcheſter croſſed with me in the ſame veſſel from Fort Erie, and brought orders to the commanding officer to embark the troops immediately for Quebec, leaving only a Captain with 50 and a Subaltern with 20 men to take care of the works until the American troops arrived to take poſſeſſion of them. Every thing is right, and the utmoſt harmony and politeneſs prevails. I can hire only three veſſels to go over to bring our heavy baggage, &c. My ſtay here has been ſo ſhort that I have had no opportunity of getting any information worthy your attention."

"General Wayne has received diſpatches from Greenville and Fort Defiance, by which he is informed, that a detachment of 70 men, commanded by Captain Porter of the corps of artillery, had actually gone to take poſſeſſion of Detroit, and that Colonel Hamtramck is in poſſeſſion of the Britiſh fort at the rapids of Miami."

A letter from Major De Butts at Detroit, dated July 11, to a gentleman in Pittſburgh, informs, that the American flag was then hoiſted on the ramparts of that place, the fortifications were in the greateſt order, that every attention was paid by the Britiſh and inhabitants to our troops.

Extract of a Letter from Bourdeaux, dated June 27—received at Baltimore.

"All things go on here wonderfully well; proviſions of all kinds are very plenty, and all the people appear extremely well pleaſed with their ſituation. This very inſtant a courier extraordinary is arrived, with news that the terms of peace had been agreed on between the republic and the emperor. The French are to be put into poſſeſſion of Mentz, as an hoſtage, until all terms are definitively arranged. His troops are ſo diſheartened as to have refuſed engaging with the republicans. It is even ſaid, that in an action which took place the 15th of June, 14,000 men laid down their arms, and ſurrendered priſoners of war. We are very anxious, for the official information."

FROM THE FEDERAL GAZETTE OF YESTERDAY

Captain Iſaacs left Leghorn on the 7th of June, and has favored us with Italian prints to the 4th, which we ſhall cauſe to be tranſlated, and lay their principal contents before our readers.

The verbal intelligence of captain Iſaacs is, that it was reported on the day he left Leghorn, that the Pope had purchaſed a peace of the French Directory, at the price of four millions ſterling!! That the republicans, it was ſaid, had taken the city of Mantua—that the news of no other victory of the French had reached that place, ſince that of Borghetto, on the 29th of May—and that no important operation had taken place, ſince Beaulieu enterad the Tyrol with the remnant of his army.

Captain Iſaacs ſays, the navigation of the Straits is now perfectly ſafe for Americans, at leaſt from the Algerines. He ſaw Mr. Donaldſon in Leghorn, who informed him, that he momently expected an order for the money that was to be paid to the Dey, by treaty; and that there was a certainty of its being paid before the time expired; and as for the Tuneſians, he thought there would be no difficulty in ſetling matters with them. Capt. I. was boarded in the Straits by an Algerine cruiſer, who detained him about two hours, and ſuffered him to proceed. Saw no ſhips of war cruiſing off Cadiz, where Richery's fleet was ſtill lying. Fell in with admiral Jervis's ſquadron, off Toulon, where he had been cruiting ſeveral months, and expected to remain till September.

A veſſel arrived at Philadelphia laſt Friday brings London accounts to the 17th of June. Theſe papers contain official details of the victories of the French on the Rhine and in Italy, which, with ſuch other matter as may appear moſt intereſting, will be given in our next.

☞ The Letter Bag of the Ship HAMILTON, for Falmouth, will be taken from the Poſt-Office on Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Auguſt 18,

A VERY VALUABLE MERCHANT MILL, A DISTILLERY AND BREWERY, AND SUNDRY STONE QUARRIES TO BE LET.

I WILL rent my Merchant Mill at the Little Falls of Potowmac, for any term, not leſs than ſeven, or more than eleven years, from the firſt day of September next. The Mill houſe is 42 by 40 feet, three ſtories high, built with ſtone, and has in it 3 pair of French burr ſtons, two overſhot 18 feet water wheels, and Evans's machinery complete, with every other thing proper and neceſſary for carrying on the buſineſs with diſpatch, and at as little expence as poſſible, all in good order.—From the mill to my landing on the Potomac river, (where crafts of any burthen may deliver grain, and take in flour) it is about 40 yards, and from thence by water to George-Town and the City of Waſhington, about three miles, and to Alexandria about 11 miles. This ſituation aided by a ſufficient capital, will command the produce of a very extenſive back country, where large quantities of wheat and other grain is annually made, the diſtance to it being from 8 to 10 miles leſs, than to any market town upon the navigation of the Potowmack. There are on the premiſſes a large ſtone Cooper's ſhop, a ſtone granery and a commodious Miller's houſe. At the landing aforeſaid a bridge is now building over the Potomac, which is in great forwardneſs and probably will be finiſhed the enſuing Fall.

There are alſo on the premiſes a Brewery and Diſtillery built with ſtone, in them are three ſtills, two coppers or boilers, with every neceſſary article, all new, and in good order, and ſufficiently large to carry on the Brewery and Diſtillery, upon a very extenſive plan. This property I will rent for the ſame term of years.

Upon my lands adjoining the premiſes, and along the banks of [illegible] may load with eaſe and diſpatch, is an immenſe quantity of building and foundation ſtones, four quarries are now open, and as many more may be opened with eaſe, the ſtone taken from theſe quarries is better, and as the preference at this market, to any other ſtone brought to it. I will rent theſe quarries ſeperately or together as may beſt [illegible].

Upon the top of the hill, and about 200 yards from the Mill is a ſtone Dwelling houſe, large enough for the accommodation of a family, alſo, a kitchen, Dairy, ſmoke houſe, &c. and a garden incloſed, and in cultivation, the ſoil of which is equal in goodneſs to any in this ſtate. I will alſo rent this property.

Adjoining to the Brewery and Diſtillery is a Smith's ſhop in which is a complete ſet of Blackſmith's tools, which I will alſo rent, and if agreeable I will hire to the tenant two negro blackſmiths, one of them is a compleat workman.

If I rent out the ſtone quarries, I will ſell three crafts which were built for the purpoſe of carrying ſtone. They will altogether bring upwards of 90 perch. Immediate poſſeſſion will be given, for terms apply to the ſubſcriber in this town.

The Mill, Brewery and Diſtillery with their appurtenances will be delivered to the tenant or tenants in good repair, and muſt be ſo returned, at the expiration of the leaſe or leaſes.

ODE,

Composed for the fourth of July, calculated for the meridian of some Country towns in Massachusetts, and Rye in Newhampshire.

SQUEAK the fife, and beat the drum,
INDEPENDENDE DAY is come!
Let the roasting pig be bled,
Quick twist off the cockerel's head,
Quickly rub the pewter platter,
Heap the nutcakes, fried in butter.
Set the cups, and baker glass,
The pumpkin, and the apple sauce,
Send the keg to shop for brandy,
Maple sugar we have handy,
Independent, staggering Dick,
A nogging mix of swinging thick,
Sal, put on your russet skirt,
Jotham get your boughton shirt.
To day we dance to tiddle diddle,
—Here comes Sambo with his fiddle;
Sambo, take a dram of whisky,
And play up Yankee doodle frisky.
Mol, come leave your witched tricks,
And let us have a reel of six.
Father and Mother shall make two;
Sal, Moll, and I stand all a row,
Sambo, play and dance with quality;
This is the day of blest Equality.
Father and mother are but men,
And Sambo—is a Citizen.
Come foot it, Sal,—Moll, figure in,
And Mother, you dance up to him;
Now saw as fast as e'er you can do,
And Father, you cross o'er to Sambo.
—Thus we dance, and thus we play,
On glorious Independence day.—
Rub more rosin on your bow,
And let us have another go.
Zounds, as sure as eggs and bacon,
Here's ensign Sneak, and uncle Deacon,
Aunt Thiab, and their Bets behind her
On blundering mare, than beetle blinder.
And there's the 'squire too with his lady—
Sal, hold the beast, I'll take the baby.
Moll, bring the 'squire our great arm chair,
Good folks, we're glad to see you here.
Jotham, get the great case bottle,
Your teeth can pull its corn cob stopple.
Ensign,—Deacon, never mind;
'Squire drink until you're blind;
Come here's the French—and Guillotine
And here is good 'squire Gallatin,
And here's each noisy Jacobin.
Here's friend Madison so hearty,
And here's confusion to the treaty.
Come, one more swig to southern Demos,
Who represent our brother negroes.
Thus we drink and dance away
This glorious INDEPENDENT DAY!

Lands for Sale.

The following Tracts, to wit:

TWO in Shanandoah County, one of 420, the other of 500 acres, within one mile of the Hawk's-bill Creek, and two miles of Rufner's Mill; also 2000 acres in the same county, in Powell's Big-Fort, in tracts of 400 to 500 acres each, lying on the waters of Passage Creek. I am informed by men of veracity that on one of those tracts is an iron ore bank, some of the ore I have seen, which can be picked up in great plenty in walking over the ground; and I am told it is of an excellent quality; this land is between the North and South Rivers of Shenandoah, and not further distant from either than 5 miles, and about 10 to the junction of the two rivers; and Passage Creek is a large stream of water that passes through the land, and empties itself into the Shenandoah. No situation in that county can be more eligible for carrying on extensive iron works, mills, &c.

I have likewise 400 acres in Frederick County, on which are two well improved plantations, situate within 5 miles of Winchester, and 3 of Newtown, on the waters of Opequan Creek.

The terms will be made known, on application to Mr. Enoch Wethers in Fauquier County, or myself in Alexandria.

July 12. C. R. SCOTT.

This tract contains thirteen hundred and twenty seven acres, is well timbered, the soil of an excellent quality for farming, and has a large proportion of fine meadow ground. There is a never failing stream of water running thro' the land with a good mill seat on it. Pursuant to a decree of the Court of the County of Westmoreland, to us directed, we will proceed to sell about

Three hundred and eighty acres of land upon a credit of twelve months, lying about a mile above Leeds town, upon Rappahannock, River, on Tuesday 20th day of September next. The place was the residence of the late John Washington, Esq. known by the name of Liberty. The soil is very fertile, particularly for the production of Indian Corn, and profitable crops of small grain have been made upon it; very extensive marshes are near, and the place itself affords such improveable meadow ground that the proprietors may keep very large stock of all kind. There is on this plantation a good dwelling house with four rooms on the lower floor and two above, and out houses, and it abounds with fine springs. An accurate survey will be shewn at the sale, and it will be required that the purchasers shall execute bonds for six equal sums payable to each of the distributors or their guardians who are entitled to the money arising from the sales.
